

Tackling labour exploitation among refugees and asylum seekers in the UK

This FREE workshop is aimed at any organisation, campaign group or individual working with and supporting refugees and asylum seekers at risk of labour exploitation. The workshop will help you to:

- understand why refugees and asylum seekers are at risk of forced labour and exploitation in the UK
- identify signs of forced labour, trafficking and other forms of labour exploitation
- consider options and responses available to both affected migrants and you
- think about how your organisation can help to improve information, awareness and support for refugees and asylum seekers in precarious labour situations

We are holding three FREE workshops in the following places and times - venues will be confirmed to registered participants:

Thursday 15th May – Manchester from 10am to 3pm

Tuesday 20th May – Leeds from 10am to 3pm

Friday 23rd May – London from 9.30am to 2.30pm

To BOOK A PLACE on one of these workshops, please email Calum Carson on C.Carson@leeds.ac.uk or ring him on 0113-343-8245. Lunch and refreshments will be provided so please include information on any dietary requirements, plus any access requirements you have. Contact Hannah Lewis H.J.Lewis@leeds.ac.uk with any other queries.

Limited travel bursaries are available to individuals, volunteers and organisations with no means to pay for local travel on a first come, first served basis.
